Principal's Message

We have one more day of school before our Winter Break. There has been a lot of excitement around the school surrounding the upcoming holiday and events that are happening here at Seaview. Our Christmas Concert kicked off the holiday season, followed by our school read in/PJ day – thank you PAC for supplying hot chocolate to everyone. The PAC Christmas Craft Night was on December 13th. This is such great event for families and we thank our PAC for taking the time to put this on each year. This week there has been carol singing in the gym on Monday, Wednesday, and the final day is tomorrow. This is always a nice event to help us celebrate the upcoming holidays together.

For the past month a challenge has been put forth to our students to work on being kind. This sounds simplistic, but it is a crucial quality that makes our school/community a better place. I have been randomly asking students to share acts of kindness they have done and shared some at our Storm Alert Assembly. This initiative will continue when we return in January. Please take the time to ask your child about acts of kindness they have done or could do.

As we bring a close to 2018 all of us at Seaview appreciate your support and know that our success depends on the partnership developed between home and school. Thank you to all!

Our last day of class prior to the holidays is Friday December 22nd. Please be aware we return from our Christmas holidays on Monday, January 8th. On behalf of the staff of Seaview, I would like to extend our best wishes for the holiday season and all of the best in the New Year!

Season's Greetings to everyone!

Sincerely,

David Cooper

Inclement Weather

As we reach the beginning of winter we have seen some of the cool wet weather. This leads students to ask the question "Is it an inside day?" The answer on most days is no. Students will be going outside to play at recess and lunch unless it is raining heavily. We thank you for ensuring your child comes to school with appropriate rain and cool weather clothing. At Seaview we believe in the importance of fresh air and outside play for all students and appreciate your assistance in this regard.
